Sweetener Users Welcome TPA Bill Introduction

Washington, DC (April 16, 2015) – Today, the Sweetener Users Association released the following statement welcoming the introduction of bipartisan legislation to renew Trade Promotion Authority (TPA).

“We commend Senators Hatch and Wyden and Representative Paul Ryan for working tirelessly to craft the TPA bill introduced today.

“TPA is an important tool that helps open up new trade opportunities for U.S. companies across all economic sectors, including companies in the sugar- and sweetener-using industry that advocate trade liberalization. That’s because armed with TPA, U.S. trade negotiators are able to achieve the best possible outcomes in current and future trade negotiations – outcomes that support U.S. economic growth and jobs across America.

“We urge Congress to work together with the Administration to get the TPA bill over the finish line as soon as possible this year.”
